

Overview

The FMHAC conference is a great place to promote your organization and recruit quality employees or students. Each year hundreds of psychologists, psychiatrists, LCSWs, MFTs, nurses, judges, attorneys, police officers, custody staff and administrators gather at our three day conference to acquire new information on forensic mental health issues and best practices, learn about successful programs around California and to network. You'll be in contact with both the decision makers and the line staff of a wide variety of California organizations including the CDCR, state hospitals, jails, prisons, CONREP organizations, and community agencies. As a Corporate Member, your organization will receive a variety of benefits providing you with maximum exposure to FMHAC's membership. Over the past 30 years, support such as yours has been vital in providing the opportunity for us to feature quality educational programming and help provide the best mental health care to incarcerated patients.

Promote your organization at the largest gathering of forensic mental health professionals in California!

“Very well organized... Interesting seminars - overall strong presenters w/ interesting discussions”

About FMHAC

FMHAC has provided support and high quality education to forensic mental health professionals for over 30 years. It was established to formalize the goals and objectives of forensic mental health professionals throughout California and to ensure an ongoing forum for education and discussion on forensic mental health and related issues. The leadership of the Association over the years has included many who have also provided leadership and direction in forensic services at the county and state level. The Board of Directors and the membership of the Association are committed to the goals of quality forensic service and the provision of forensic education and training. Individually and collectively the membership represents the heart and history of forensic services in California.
